Parasha tidbits from the Rabbi

“... וְלֹא-יְהִי כְקֹרַח וְכַעֲדָתוֹ” (Bamidbar 17:5) “... and not to be like Korach and his company...” The Torah mentions not only Korach himself, but also his assembly. This teaches us that not only those who initiate conflict out of personal motives will ultimately be punished, but also those who support the instigators of conflict—even if they have nothing personal to gain—will likewise be held accountable. May we all strive to distance ourselves from strife and remain steadfastly honest in our relationships and interactions with others.

Shabbat Shalom/שבת שלום ומבורך

Reminder: Please Redeem Your Pledges Before Summer Travel

As summer approaches and many of our members prepare for time away, we kindly ask that you take a moment to redeem any outstanding pledges. Your generous support helps ensure that our shul continues to operate smoothly throughout the year — even during the quieter summer months. Every contribution makes a difference in sustaining our programs and minyanim.

Parasha thought from Rabbi Arthur Kirsch

The Belzer Rebbe, Reb Yeshayale, asks: Why did the earth have to swallow up Korach and his followers? Why not simply have the 250 people go to sleep at night and be found dead in their homes the next morning? Wouldn't that have been enough to prove that Moshe was right and they were wrong? The answer is: No. Because, spiritually, they were already "dead"—they had publicly disgraced a Talmid Chacham. They had incurred a judgment of death (chayav misah) because they embarrassed Moshe Rabbeinu in public. And although their ta'anah—their argument—might have had some logical merit, they crossed a red line. Therefore, they had to die in a special way to show clearly and undeniably that Moshe was correct and divinely appointed. The Chofetz Chaim said: You will almost never see a case where one side is 100% right and the other is 100% wrong. And yet, despite the severity of the challenge, Moshe got up early in the morning and personally went to Datan and Aviram to try and make peace.

Have a great Shabbos.
